ESTATE PLANNING DATAPACK

Dear Prospective Client:

We understand that you are interested in having us prepare a Will for you. If you expect that your estate will simply involve residential real estate, passage of most of your estate from husband to wife (or vice versa) or from you to your children, and distribution of some of the assets of the estate to your surviving spouse or any children you may have, with everything going to your children in the event both of you and your spouse die, then our fee for preparation of a Will to accomplish that will be quite nominal.

If your estate will involve establishing trust funds, life estates, fiduciary interests, business and/or investment concerns, etc., then your estate is going to be a bit more complicated and will require more research and preparation.

By completing the attached ESTATE PLANNING DATAPACK, you can provide us with the information we need to begin preparing your Last Will and Testament as well as your Living Will and, perhaps, a Durable Power of Attorney. Please be as complete and accurate as possible. If you need more space for any answers, please continue your response on the back of this form. All this information will, of course, be kept confidential.

After you have completed this Datapack, you need to contact our offices to set up an appointment to discuss your needs. It would be helpful if you fax, mail or hand-deliver your completed Datapack to us prior to the time of your first appointment. At your first appointment, we will discuss the fee that will be involved in handling your particular situation.

Thank you for allowing us this opportunity to be of service to you.

Very truly yours,

JAMES K. MURPHY

SPECIFIC BEQUESTS

Do you wish to make any specific bequests (gifts to any persons or organizations other than the "residue" of your estate)?¹ Instead of naming an alternate beneficiary, you have the option of having the gift revert to your residuary estate for distribution among your general beneficiaries.

This can include your instructions about certain individuals who you want to receive specific items of personal property. For instance, you can identify who you want to receive sentimental items you may have inherited or acquired.

For use only by potential clients of Hoge Partners, PLLC

The "residue" of your estate or "residuary estate" is all of your real and personal property not otherwise disposed of by means of your estate. In other words, if your only "specific bequest" was $1,000 left to a church or charity, everything else would be considered your "residuary estate". You might want to use a "specific bequest" to leave a favorite collectible to a certain person; the residue (or rest) of your estate would be divided according to the conditions for the disposition of your residuary estate found later in your Will.

{IF YOU NEED MORE SPACE FOR SPECIFIC BEQUESTS, PLEASE USE AN ADDITIONAL SHEET OF PAPER}

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR PETS

Do you have any PETS for whom you'd like to make special provisions? Any special instructions for their care? Do you have someone in mind to adopt your pets after your death? Do you want to make provisions for the benefit of any pets within your Will (funding their future care, etc.)?

Did you adopt your pet(s) from a rescue organization? If so, please identify and state whether your estate is contractually obligated to return the animal(s) to the adopting agency in the event of your death.

RESIDUARY ESTATE

(Everything Not Disposed of by "Special Bequests")

The rest (or residue) of your estate will be distributed among your heirs in accordance with the wishes you express here. Traditionally, most simple estates pass from the deceased spouse to the surviving spouse and, in the event that the other spouse has already died, the residuary estate goes to the children and/or, if any of the children are deceased, that child's share goes to his or her offspring.

In such a case, if you were to die, the bulk of your estate would pass to your wife or husband. If your spouse died before you, the residue of the estate would go to your surviving children or your grandchildren (in the event any of your children die before you).

Please indicate below to whom you want to inherit the bulk of your estate (other than any Special Bequests indicated above).

If any of the beneficiaries or alternate beneficiaries do not survive you, the bequest would customarily go to that person or organization's heirs or successors. Is that in accordance with your wishes?

In the unlikely event that NONE of the beneficiaries or alternate beneficiaries and none of their children survive you, to whom or to what organization do you want the residue of your estate to go?

BEQUESTS TO MINORS

Are any of the beneficiaries to these bequests still minors (under 21)? _____

If so, you must decide how these gifts should go to these minors? You have two options:

- (1) The Uniform Transfer to Minors Act ("UMTA") permits you to name a "custodian" and an "alternate custodian" for these gifts, to hold and maintain these assets until the child reaches the age of 21. The UMTA is the generally preferred vehicle to transfer an asset to a child.

OR

- (2) Establishment of a trust, which would complicate the creation of your Will. Under a trust, you have the opportunity to direct that the asset be administered by a custodian until the child reaches what you determine to be an appropriate age for maturity to handle such an asset. Generally, a trust would only be established in a situation where the asset bequeathed to a child is truly substantial.

Do you want to use the UMTA to transfer any gifts to minors? _____

If so, please name a "Custodian". _____

Please name an "Alternate Custodian". _____

Do you want to incur the additional expense of establishing a more complicated Trust for the benefit of these minor children and for the administration of these assets? _____

If so, please name a "Custodian". _____

Please name an "Alternate Custodian". _____

At what age shall the assets be transferred to each child? _____

WE WILL REQUEST ADDITIONAL INFORMATION FROM YOU IF YOU DECIDE TO DRAW UP TRUST DOCUMENTS FOR THE TRANSFER OF ASSETS TO MINORS.

ADMINISTRATION OF YOUR ESTATE

Who would you like to appoint as your Personal Representative (also known as the "Executor", "Executrix" or "Administrator" of your estate)?

_____ Relationship to you: _____

In case that person is no longer living or for some other reason cannot serve as your Personal Representative, please name an Alternate Personal Representative.

PAYMENT OF DEBTS OWED TO YOU

At the time of your death, certain individuals may owe you money (personal loans made by you, etc.). Please indicate here whether you wish to "forgive" any such debts.

If you do NOT wish to forgive such debts, please describe any such debts of which you are now aware:

PAYMENT OF YOUR DEBTS AND DEBTS OF YOUR ESTATE

At the time of your death, you will no doubt have certain debts. In addition, by virtue of your death, your estate will incur certain other debts (funeral and burial expenses, etc.) You have at least two options for handling the payment of these debts.

These debts would customarily be paid from the residue of your estate, leaving the rest to be divided according to your directions among your residuary beneficiaries or their alternates.

Warning: In the case of an outstanding mortgage on your home or other large debt, the payment of such a debt from the residue of your estate would certainly diminish it greatly. In addition, your spouse or other beneficiary might be forced to sell your home in order to pay off the mortgage. We recommend the purchase of insurance which would pay off any substantial outstanding loans in the event of your death or the death of your spouse.

As an alternative, you can determine now to have your Personal Representative pay any bills from a particular asset, such as from your checking account or the sale of some asset, thus leaving the bulk of your estate intact for distribution to your heirs.

- Pay my debts prior to the distribution of my residuary estate to my beneficiaries.
- OR
- Pay my debts and expenses from a particular asset (Identify: _____).

How do you want your Personal Representative to handle the payment of estate and inheritance taxes?

- Pay estate and inheritance taxes from a designated asset (Identify that asset: _____).
- Pay estate and inheritance taxes from my residuary estate.
- Pay estate and inheritance taxes from all of my property.
